COTTON CROP WORTH $2,240,000

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

Regret is often expressed by parents that their boys are so keen to play football. Many a parent is haunted by fear that boy will come home some day on a stretcher.

It is not possible to shield young people from all danger. The number of students killed and injured in automobile accidents is many times the number hurt in football games. But people do not forbid their boys and girls to drive or ride in automobiles.

You save your boy from certain risks if you keep him out of football. But if his attention and activity are not occupied with this absorbing sport, he will go into something else.

Sometimes the "something else" is not so good. It may put the youngster in far greater peril than he will ever be when rolling in the mud with the pigskin.

The objection which some parents entertain to football as a school and college sport is not wholly based on the fear of accident. It is also said that many football players worry about the game, so that the experience interferes with the study for which they go to school. If a boy has such a fine physique and quick thought that he shows up well on the field, his schoolmates are apt to egg him on to play. Such boys have been accused of being "yellow", because they would not go out for the team.

The young people often say, when they get into conflict with their parents, that they have the right to "live their own lives." They should be equally allowed to live their own lives by their school and college friends. If a boy decides that it is contrary to his best interests to play this game which will take so much of his time and thought, he should be allowed to keep out of it. Even if his team loses because he stayed out, football success was not the thing for which those boys had costly schools provided for them.

The personality and service of school teachers has a powerful effect on the future of children. An inspiring teacher will take a child out of the doldrums of indifference, and fill his heart with ambition. Successful men and women often say they owe their good fortune to the words of some teacher, who induced them to go out in the world and make something for themselves.

Families should cooperate with the teachers, and offer them courtesies. In some families, if children have any controversy with teachers, the parents are pretty sure to take sides with the child. They feel that the teacher demands too much, or is unfair or partial. It never occurs to them to visit the school, and talk the situation over. If they do so fairly, they would learn much they do not understand.

In many cities teachers come in from other places, and are left very much to themselves, without social life. The townspeople should welcome them, show them attention, and invite them to join in social activities.

Some people think that school hours are short compared with store and factory hours, and schools are closed for a very long summer vacation, and therefore teachers have an easy time. They fail to realize all the long hours a teacher spends during evenings, Saturdays, and often Sundays, correcting papers and preparing for the next day's lessons.

It is a job of nervous strain to handle a crowded room of restless young people. They are all ready to blow up in an explosion, if some unfortunate incident touches off a spark. It is some job to keep that turbulent room smooth and quiet, and in a mood of work. Anyone who can do that is entitled to many compensations.

MORE MONEY

Cotton's sensational advance on the government market report Tuesday put more than $100,000 in the pockets of Milam County farmers.

It is estimated that the county will produce around 32,000 bales approximately 5000 more than in 1935. The advance anounted to $3 per bale and a corresponding advance on seed.

The local season is late this year due to late crops and heavy rains in July prolonging growth.

SECRETARY OF STATE, MATOCHA IN CITY

B. P. Matocha, Secretary of State in the Allred cabinet, was a business visitor in Cameron over the week end. He told a representative of the Herald he was returning to Austin Monday afternoon.

Mr. Matocha, a prominent Allred leader, was first named by the Governor to the Texas Securities Commission where he served for more than two years when he received appointment to the office of Secretary of State.

Mr. Matocha became the third Secretary of State in the Allred administration. He succeeded Judge R. B. Stanford who was appointed a district judge in Waco. Gerald Mann, former Southern Methodist University football star, was Governor Allred's first appointee in this office.

Mr. Matocha was not certain he would remain in the office of secretary of state, due to the small salary fixed by the constitution. An amendment is to be voted on soon to raise the salaries of this and other state offices.

Louis Jurcak, graduate of Yoe High School in 1936, has been awarded a scholarship to A. & M. College in the school of Agriculture and will enroll there for the coming season. Alexander, of the Vocational Teaching Department, notified Jurcak of his selection this week. He will continue his poultry training and will be on the Cameron team that represents Texas in the National judging contest in October.

He was encouraged by the addition of Johnnie Sprott, 180 pound lineman who reported Tuesday for work. He is being worked out at tackle.

32,000 BALE ESTIMATE AND PRICE RISE ASSURES COUNTY OF PROSPERITY RETURN

Milam County's 1936 cotton crop is worth $2,240,000 this morning. This figure is based upon the estimate of 32,000 bales made by George Banzhaf, county agent, and the sensational rise in price following the production estimate of the United States Government.

Supplementing the above sum are the cash rental benefits yet to be paid by the government to farmers of the county. It was believed the total yield this year from cotton operations, counting the acreage rentals, would erach almost $3,000,000.

Feed Crop Good

In addition the farms have a bumper feed crop and livestock is in better condition than for many years as a result of the summer rains making grazing lands secure against winter ravages. The crop badly spotted, will not yield as indicated early in the season. This money yield is gross. Net returns are difficult to estimate as many factors enter into final disposition of the crop.

Business Is Good

Retail trade was reported brisk in all phases of merchandising. Goods are advancing. Foods have been soaring for several months, but Cameron was maintaining her usual buying advantages and merchants here looked for a good and prolonged fall business.

SCHOOLS OPEN MONDAY

Cameron schools opened Monday morning with a total enrollment of 1000 students, the largest indicated student interest in the history of the city.

In the Yoe High School there are 465; in Ada Henderson grade school there are 535 students. It was announced that the Senior Clas next June will graduate approximately 120 students, the largest class in the history of the high school.

Perrin On Job

Superintendent E. A. Perrin, one of Texas' outstanding school administrators, was well pleased with the opening day Monday. By Tuesday morning all students were enrolled in their classes and at work for the nine months ahead in the adventurous search for knowledge.

Opening Exercises

Students assembled in the auditorium on Monday morning. The band under direction of Francis Cox, played the opening number. Rev. J. Coy Williams of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation. This was followed by a 40 minute band concert. Students were then assigned to their rooms, given schedule cards and issued books. In the afternoon assignments were made and by Tuesday morning study was progressing and all details of the vast system working in perfect order.

Farmers Profit More Than Millon From Cotton Crop

The cotton farmers of Milam county will make, use and spend more than two million dollars this fall, all of which will come from the 32,000 bale cotton crop, as estimated by Geo. Panzhaf, County Agent.

The farmers will produce sixteen million pounds of lint cotton which will bring them on an average of 12 1-2 cents per pound. This means that they will be paid two million dollars for their lint cotton. They will produce 12,800 tons of seed which will net them $460,000. The sum of $1.50 will be made off every bale of cotton on bagging and ties because the farmer pays the ginner $1.25 for bagging and ties and sells them for $2.75. This will bring the farmers $48,000.

It may be estimated, therefore, that $2,508,000 will be placed in the hands of Milam County Farmers this fall.

Pickers Profit

The cotton pickers will pick forty-eight million pounds of cotton, which will give them, at 60c per hundred, $268,800. The ginners who are paid 20c per hundred for ginning the cotton will get $89,600 for their service and the use of the $40,000 invested by the farmers on bagging and ties. The cotton yards and compress will get $4,800 for weighing the cotton and the cotton buyer will make a good profit on buying and selling the farmers' cotton.

Make Over Million

It may be estimated therefore that the cotton farmers of this county will make more than one million dollars. This does not include, however, the cost of producing the crop.

A large percent of this large amount of money will be spent in the city of Cameron, everyone and every business will get its portion of it, causing homes to be constructed and new businesses to spring up. All of this will slowly but surely make Milam County the "Bank" of Texas.

Location Made For Deep Test Well

Location of a deep test well on the Charles McDermott farm notheast of Cameron in the bend of Little River, was announced Wednesday morning by W. R. Ritchie and associates of Tulsa, Oklahoma and New York City.

Sam Hohenstein, veteran oil scout, and father of the Minerva Oil Field with the discovery well on Cat Tail Creek in 1920, completed blocking of acreage and announced the location of the well. L. H. Wilson of Taylor, will drill the test and machinery is now being shipped to Cameron for a well of from six to seven thousand feet deep.

Near Posey Well

The well is located one and a half miles northwest of the test drilled on the Posey farm which came in a strong gasser some years ago. The Posey well still flows a large volume of gas and at one time efforts were made to finance piping the supply to the City of Cameron.

Geology Good

Geology for the well was worked out by British & Reynolds of Fort Worth. The structure worked over high from the old W. H. Day farm northeast to the bend of Little River a short distance from the location of the well.

Hohenstein Veteran

Mr. Hohenstein, veteran, said Wednesday, if the field came in he would get credit for it because he has been working on this acreage block for 15 years trying to interest drillers. He believes in the structure and says the geology indicates a field and is backing his judgment on the successful outcome.

COTTON IS UP ON LOW PRODUCTION ESTIMATE

WASINGTON, Sept. 8.—Drought damage to this year's cotton crop, reflected in an official government estimate of an 11,121,000 bale production today sent prices for the south's staple soaring.

Arid weather in the western end of the cotton belt caused the federal crop reporting board to reduce its forecast of the season's yield 1,360,000 running bales below its August 1 estimate.

Prices Advance $3.50 Bale

The 11,121,000 bales estimate for 1936 was still above the short crops of the past two years—10,638,000 bales in 1935 and 9,636,000 bales in 1934—but well below the five year average of 14,667,000 bales in 1928-32.

The sharp reduction apparently surprised the cotton trade and at New Orleans all options shot up to the 12 cent a pound mark or more in

Green & Boedeker Announce Big Sale For the Week End

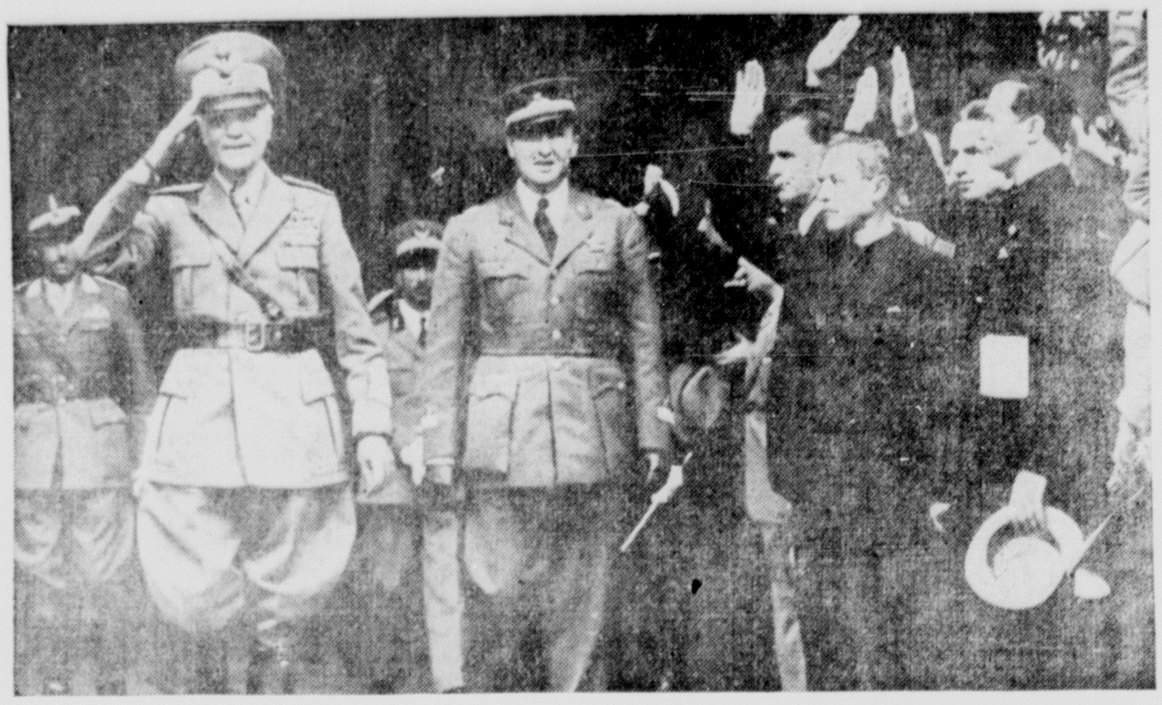

Green & Boedeker announce an important sale of merchandise for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Leland Green, Jr., advertising director for the store and manager of the food department, said: "In the face of advancing food prices, our capacity buying power enables us to effect many savings in this early fall sale at our stores in Cameron. This is to be one of our best sales and our friends and customers over the trade territory can rely upon the advantages offered here."

Recently the store was enlarged to make room for greater displays and counter spaces. The store is now one of the largest in Central Texas and stocks have been purchased for the fall business.

Lower prices are prevailing in the store during the next three days. In this issue of the Herald will be found the message that goes to thousands who read Cameron's only Thursday newspaper.

Royal Exit for the Conqueror of Ethiopia

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, who directed conquest of Ethiopia, is shown acknowledging salutes of admirers as he arrived in Rome. As a signal mark of honor the conquering marshal was accorded the privilege of leaving the railroad station through the exit ordinarily reserved for royalty.

RELIEF FROM BAD PARKING SYSTEM PROMISED BY CITY MARSHAL WHEN LANES ARE PAINTED

Cameron's hodge-podge parking system was due to get a revamping soon.

Gene Smith, city marshal, said the city had authorized repainting of the parking lanes indicating the 40 degree angle provided by ordinance.

During recent months Cameron's parking system has been a big headache to motorists. Cars have been and are now being parked at a dozen different angles to the curbing and even taking space in the streets parallel to the curb line so that in periods of heavy travel on the streets great difficulty is experienced in negotiating the thoroughfares.

Cars Park Wrong

Chief among the objections being raised and that which has caused the greater criticism is the failure of some to observe the 40 degree angle parking. If one motorist observes the parking angles and another does not, the motorist who follows the law is unable to get his car away from the curb because he is cut off by the careless car owner who has gone into the curb at a direct angle.

Not Enough Room

Another cause for complaint is that irregular parking reduces the available space so that in the average 3 cars take up the space that would accommodate five if properly parked.

For a long time there has been no traffic regulation. No policing has been in evidence, stop signs are disregarded and every known fracture of recognized rules of driving has resulted from the open conditions that have prevailed in the city for some time.

Need Police

Chiefly responsble for this is the fact that the city has not provided the required number of policemen. Day policemen cannot be expected to patrol the business district and at the same time direct traffic. Use of the streets in Cameron by automobiles has increased 100 per cent in the last three years so that the problem of maintaining proper traffic regulations is one of the most acute now facing the council.

W. S. Lambkin Finds Trench Silo the Best Preserver of Feed

W. S. Lambkin of Cameron is filling his trench silo with late June corn that did not mature because of dry weather. The ideal condition is to have the feed ripe, the grain hard and all leaves green.

If, however, leaves are burned then more water is required over the feed. After the silo is filled with the cut feed and packed down it is covered with about a foot of dirt. No air must get into the silo, as that causes spoilage.

Mr. Lambkin owns several hundred acres of land which he stock farms. He feeds cattle for the Fort Worth markets. He has two other silos but is finding the trench silo a cheap way to store surplus Hegari, cane, red top cane and the like.

Boondoggler's Heaven Is Found in Pueblo, Colo.

PUEBLO, Colo., Sept 5.—This might well be called the boondoggle capital of America. For here have been perpetrated in the name of "relief" some of the most fantastic operations with Federal money that have been recorded anywhere. Pueblo county has received about $2,233,096 of Federal money for local projects.

Dig and Fill Up Ditch

First, there's the golf course. The WPA spent $100,826 on it. In constructing it, a ditch 4,200 feet long was dug and filled up when it was discovered that the ditch was in the wrong place for draining. A second ditch was dug and parts of it were too long and had to be filled in.

Second, there's the expenditure of about $310,370 on improvements to the state fair grounds. The fair grounds are idle most of the year, but they do take in some money as a business proposition for the state, and Colorado should have defrayed much more of the cost instead of leaving the bulk of it to taxpayers in other parts of the country—this is the chief objection raised even among Colorado citizens, who feel that the cost of the maintenance will ultimately be a burden upon them.

Back To Horse And Buggy

About $250,000 was spent on horse barns. There are 10 units each, costing about $23,597. Commenting on these barns, the New York Sun, which has made a specialty of exposing these boondoggles, remarks: "Even the most aristocratic of horses, when ushered into such a barn, ought not to look the WPA in the mouth, but the question which doubtless rises in the minds of many Coloradoans is: How is the state to produce enough horses to fill all these barns unless there is an immediate return to the horse and buggy days?"

Cockeyed Stuff

Third, there is comment on the outlay of $50,000 of Federal money to improve streets and driveways leading to the state fair grounds when, at a town not far away, the President approved a similar improvement of 12 miles of streets at a total cost of only $2,500.

Fourth, there is the roof and extension of the poultry building, authorized by the President through the WPA at a cost to the Federal Treasur of $24,900.

Federal Maintenance

Fifth, Federal money is already being used for maintenance purposes. Thus, seven large and 127 small bridges are being painted by the WPA at a total cost of $37,000.

Sixth, a zoo costing $24,595 of Federal money is being constructed in the city park.

Seventh, another $24,595 has been borrowed to landscape a hill in the animal pens. This is also Federal money.

Dance Pavillion

Eighth, the young people of Pueblo are to have their dancing pavillion in the city park remodeled. It will cost $24,750 of Federal money.

Ninth, wading pools are being constructed by the WPA at a cost of $24,600 to the Federal Treasury.

$90,000 For $2,233,096

Pueblo county has 1,506 persons who pay income taxes to the Federal Government, and, since the average was $60 for the state, the assumption is that about $90,000 will be paid by Pueblo county residents toward repayment to the Federal Government for having spent $2,233,096 in this county. Approximately $2,140,000, therefore, has to be paid by taxpayers in other parts of the country for improvements they will never see or enjoy.

Relief Much Cheaper

The big question is whether the employment given could have been otherwise furnished or whether food and shelter for the unemployed could have been otherwise provided by this county, even with Federal aid, for much less expense. Most citizens hereabouts, glad to have the gift of the improvements, will nevertheless concede privately that relief could have been much less expensively handled.

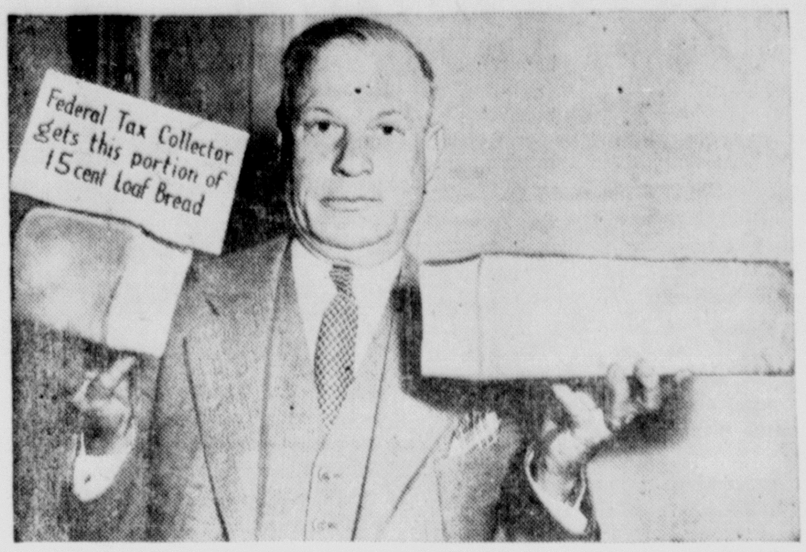

What has happened in Pueblo may or may not be typical of what has happened in other cities and counties, but the general impression I gather from other states, too, is that boondogging has come to be a good deal of a joke—that is, a joke on taxpayers of the East and Middle West who will have to pay the bill.

Government's Slice From Loaf of Bread

Members of the Conference of National Bakery Executives meeting in Chicago were shown by W. E. Long how big a portion of a 15 cent loaf the federal tax collector gets. Taxes take that part which Mr. Long holds in his right hand. Members of the conference agreed to place on bread wrappers the exact amount of tax levied against each loaf, to acquaint the American public with the tax problem.

Liquor Payments Aid Age Pensions

AUSTIN, Sept. 2.—Charles S. Miller, administrator for the liquor control board, expressed confidence today that revenue from new licenses would exceed $400,000.

Miller based his estimate on the fact that more than 500 license applications had been returned to dealers for more information and that a total of 3,406 permits had already netted $322,092. The new fiscal year started yesterday and dealers cannot operate without license.

Pensions Secured

These figures caused Orville S. Carpenter, director for the old age assistance commission, to reiterate that the $300,000 which the commission will receive from the liquor levies would carry the pension program without difficulty until Jan. 1. This money is matched by federal funds.

Approximately 72,000 September checks were being mailed pensioners this week. The checks represented nearly $2,000,0000, averaging $16 per month each. About 10,000 approved applicants will be added to the pension rolls each month.

Chas. Frank Green was a business visitor in Waco the past week end.

CHURCH PLAY

The play given by the women of the First Christian Church on Friday evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

A nice sum was realized, the proceeds to be applied to the pew fund for the new church building just recently completed.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'doless.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

BANK GROUPS MAKE NATIONWIDE SURVEY

American and State Banking Associations Collaborate in Investigation

LOAN SERVICES STUDIED

Activities of the Government in the Banking Field Are Reviewed and Position of Banks Analyzed

NEW YORK.—Detailed bank researches, covering all phases of practical operating and economic facts and conditions related to banking, are being made by the American Bankers Association. The resulting material is being placed at the disposal of all state banking associations, which in many instances are extending the researches of the national association in their own states. These activities are said to be a part of the general program of banking development which is being carried on by the organized banking business.

Among the most extensive researches being conducted by the American Bankers Association is that of its Committee on Banking Studies, which is making a detailed survey of Federal Government lending agencies and policies. The basic material, which is kept up to date by continuing studies, shows where the Government agencies get the money they lend, what liability the Government assumes, what subsidy it extends, what return it gets, for what and to whom the money goes and on what terms it is loaned.

The Government in Banking

"It is not the intention of the committee to express its viewpoint about any agency," says the foreword to this material. "Its intention is only to determine the facts. These facts properly assembled and presented should help banks to meet Government competition if and where it exists. The committee believes the Government entered the lending field at a critical period in order to aid banks and financial institutions. If the time has come for the Government to withdraw, it is the duty of bankers to demonstrate their readiness to take care of all sound credit needs."

It adds that the banks must be equipped with full factual material as to the Government's emergency lending activities and practices, and that full cooperation has been given the committee by Government agencies in obtaining facts. Binders of the material gathered have been placed by the committee in the hands of state associations.

Investigation of Postal Savings

The Committee on Banking Studies has also made a survey of the Postal Savings System throughout the United States to ascertain to what extent it is competing with chartered banks. Questionnaires were sent to banks in all places where Postal Savings depositories are operated and their answers will be analyzed as a basis for the committee's findings.

The Bank Management Commission of the American Bankers Association has made a nation-wide survey covering the movement among banks to increase their earning abilities "through fair and legitimate rates for services they render their depositors." It has developed a plan of account analysis as a basis of fair charges.

"All business in order to justify its existence is founded on the economic principle that a reasonable return should be expected from services rendered," the commission says.

Personal Income Loans

The Bank Management Commission has also formulated methods for installing and operating personal income loan departments in banks. "This plan contemplates making loans primarily to individuals and small business concerns, based upon the character and assured incomes of the borrowers, as distinguished from the usual basis for 'commercial loans,'" the commission says.

It points out that a large part of the population is not now making use of available bank credit and that "to these people the personal loan department extends a valuable service which at the same time is profitable to the bank." It adds that it is "the duty of the banks to educate the public to come to the bank for all financial services. Small borrowers should be informed that the local bank is willing to care for their demands."

Other Researches

Other researches are being made by the Economic Policy Commission of the association dealing with shrinkages in liquid commercial loans caused by economic changes in the nation's business methods while the National Bank Division has made studies of the lending and investment powers of this class of bank, the present status of the real estate investment field and of detailed data by states on earnings and expenses.

The Savings Division has gathered the facts showing savings in banks of all types, the number of savings depositors, the per capita savings for the country as a whole and the effects of current economic and social changes upon the savings habits of the American people.

The association's State Bank Division has issued the most recent figures available as to the detailed conditions of state banks, showing steady improvement in the position of the state banks, with marked expansion in their aggregate resources, while the Trust Division has compiled a guide to fees with a recommended cost accounting system.

ICERS EVEN SERIES WITH SURGEONS

Cameron's Icers evened the count in the championship series of the Heart of Texas League by whipping the Temple Surgeons Sunday at Cameron 10 to 6.

Linsky, the Icer hurler, kept Temple hits scattered in the early innings and got good support from his mates while Cameron was running up a 10 to 0 lead. The Icer hurler eased up in the final three innings, the Surgeons scored one in the seventh, two in the eighth and three in the ninth.

Each team got 12 hits with Ernest Evans going the route for Temple on the hill. Cameron was a bit more effective in the pinches, however. The Icers tallied three runs in the second inning when Linsky doubled with the bases full.

Carl Craft with a pair of doubles. Lefty Morgan with two singles and a double and Evans with a double and single led the Temple attack. McDonald with three singles and Pro Deer with a single and a double led Cameron's stickwork.

The teams will meet in the important third game here this Sunday.

Mrs. James Watson spent several days the past week in Dallas attending the Centennial.

THE COLD GERM ··IS WAITING FOR YOUR DEFENSE TO BE LOWERED!

Don't give a "common cold" an even break! The fact that this is good advice is emphasized by the report of leading doctors who point out that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold."

It is well known that sudden chilling of the body after overheating will often cause sneezing, watery secretions or nasal obstruction. Of this, there can be no doubt from the experience of generations of people everywhere. Any sudden change in bodily temperature during winter months such as going from a warm room into a cold one disturbs the heat regulating apparatus of the body and lowers your defense against the insidious attack of the cold germ.

If you heat only one or two rooms . . . if you "huddle" in these warm rooms while the rest of the house remains cold, sudden indoor temperature changes are unavoidable. It's good health insurance as well as good advice to provide adequate heat and a proper circulation of pure warm air in every room of your home during the coming winter months.

LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM

Soon the cold germ will marshal his forces for his health wrecking winter attack.

If you should catch cold, consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

BANKERS WILL MEET IN ANNUAL COUNCIL

Business Men Also Invited to Present Their Views on Services of Banks to the Public

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Robert V. Fleming, President American Bankers Association, has announced that the organization's annual convention will be held at San Francisco, September 21-24, and its program will call in not only bankers but speakers from various lines of business to present their viewpoints and advice.

The plans for the convention discussions take into consideration the fact, he said, that one of the major problems of banking today is to develop its operations along lines that will create greater public understanding of its methods and services.

"It is my earnest conviction that such public understanding of banking is not only an essential defense against attacks from whatever source, but is also requisite to reestablishing it upon a firm and satisfactory basis of profitable operations," Mr. Fleming said.

General Improvement Cited

"The improvement in general conditions which is now taking place should be of material aid to bankers in carrying forward a constructive program for increasingly useful relationships between banking and business, as well as one of more helpful personal business services to all our people. Sound banking conducted in ways the public need and understand must be the aim of successful bank management.

"How can the banker make his operations and policies more understandable to the people of his community? How can better and broader financial services be soundly provided? How can banking improve its operating methods and income? These and many similar questions demand the earnest attention of all bankers. They call for a fresh counselling together and a new interchange of experience and advice among the members of our profession.

"With these thoughts in mind, we have built the convention program with the view of also calling into our councils speakers from various lines of business to give us their viewpoints and advice. I can say without reservation that this is to my mind one of the most crucial years in the evolution of American banking, and that we are passing through a period demanding, as never before, cooperation and mutual exchange of viewpoint among our members and others."

Radio Commencement Exercises

More than 200 widely separated chapters of the American Institute of Banking, the educational section of the American Bankers Association, hold annually in September a simultaneous commencement exercise at which they listen to the speaker of the evening by radio. This is said to be the most extensive graduation ceremony held by any educational institution. The aggregate membership of the chapters, which are located in cities and towns throughout the United States, totals about 35,000 bank employees and officers. The graduates number each year more than 2,500, and total graduates are now over 25,000.

The Business Outlook

NEW YORK.—The natural forces of recovery have demonstrated their strength and have a momentum which may reasonably be expected to carry the country into new high ground, says "Banking," the publication of the American Bankers Association, in its August issue. The momentary stimulation following the distribution of bonus funds to the veterans has practically died away and is no longer an important business factor. A certain degree of uncertainty arising from the national political campaign is unavoidable, the magazine says.

Foreign Trade

The Commerce and Marine Commission of the American Bankers Association has made a report which shows that the foreign trade of the world for the year 1935 on the basis of its estimated physical volume was 78.9 per cent of the 1929 level. This was 2.1 per cent above the volume of 1934 and is the highest since 1929. The gold values of world trade were much lower due to the lower commodity prices in January 1936. The combined index of 75 countries showed 35.7 per cent of the 1929 average.

Aged People of Milam are Bitter Over Failure State To Pay Pensions Past Due

General unrest swept the county this week, resulting from the failure of many aged people to get their checks. None of the new applicants in Cameron and very few in the county have received checks this month, according to Judge Jeff T. Kemp.

No Reason Given

Judge Kemp, although having no authority in connection with the old age pension, went to Austin on August 7 to learn why so many of the applicants had failed to receive checks. At that time he was assured that all accepted applicants would receive checks on September 1. The Judge is unable to give any reason why the checks were not received but announced his intention of calling on the general office in Austin again on Friday of this week.

Says Will Be Paid

R. L. Storey, investigator, states: "I am sure that everyone who is eligible for the old age pension will get their checks in the near future. I have no reason to believe otherwise.

"The main reason for the delay is due to the fact that applicants fail to give correct information con cerning the proof of their age," Storey states.
